Judges Order Wallace Halt Interference

MONTGOMERY Ala. (AP)—A three-judge federal panel has ordered Gov. George C. Wallace and the State Board of Education to cease interfering with school desegregation.

The order Monday noticeably did not order statewide integration. Instead it:

—Prevents Wallace State School Supt. Austin Meadows and other members of the State Board of Education from interfering with any desegregation order a federal court might hand down.

—Orders the Macon (Tuskegee) County School Board to desegregate all four high school grades from the 9th to the 12th and at least one elementary grade in every school.

—Reprimands the State Board of Education for "failing in the exercise of its control and supervision over the public schools of this state to use such control and supervision... to promote and encourage the elimination of racial discrimination."

—Prevents the state from using public funds to support private segregated schools.

However the injunction did not:

—Order statewide desegregation of schools.

—Prohibit state authorities from continuing to allocate funds for segregation.

—Rule Alabama's pupil placement law unconstitutional.

The three judges—Richard Rives of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Court Judges H. H. Grooms of Birmingham and Frank M. Johnson of Montgomery—made it clear that they will retain jurisdiction and may take further action "if such interference... continues or occurs in the future—either directly or indirectly—through the use of subtle coercion or outright interference when the local school authorities are attempting to comply with the desegregation orders of a federal court."

Talkative Mobster Is Still in Jail

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—What ever happened to Joseph Valachi?

The talkative mobster who detailed for the federal government the inner workings of "La Cosa Nostra"—the multimillion-dollar organized crime empire—sits today where he has languished since testifying before a Senate subcommittee last fall—in the District of Columbia jail.

The government has no plans to move him, although a Justice Department official acknowledged that Valachi's storehouse of crime information has been pretty well milked dry.

At 61, Valachi was described by an official who knows him as "in top condition—down to his old fighting weight." In his secluded cell he continues daily calisthenics to keep in shape. He spends much time watching television.

Valachi does not mingle with other prisoners. During the weeks when his name was becoming a household word, the story got out that the underworld was offering $100,000 to anyone who would kill Valachi for breaking the secret oath of La Cosa Nostra.

He still gets some mail from strangers, a Justice Department official said. Occasionally there's a "crackpot letter" from someone who views him as a stoic figure—but never any serious threats.

An occasional agent wanders over to talk to him, and sometimes law enforcement officers from around the country drop in to see if he can shed new light on their local problems.

Valachi's life is largely the lonely one of a man serving a life term for murder.

Pleased with his brief moment in history, Valachi is described as "glad it's over."

Miss Arkansas Contest Starts

HOT SPRINGS Ark. (AP)—The state's 44 lovely girls entered in the Miss Arkansas Pageant got down to business Monday night after they were formally welcomed and registered for the beauty contest.

The girls rehearsed at Oak lawn Park where preliminary competition starts Wednesday night and where the new Miss Arkansas will be picked Saturday night.

They went to Little Rock today for the taping of a television show to be broadcast to night.

Mort Cox manager of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce greeted each girl as they arrived at one-minute intervals at the Arlington. Several hundred persons watched the formal welcoming and the Hot Springs High School band provided music for the event.

The Miss Arkansas title was the stepping stone to Miss America for El Dorado's Donna Axum. The new state titlist will succeed Pam Jackson of North Little Rock who assumed the Miss Arkansas crown when Miss Axum became Miss America.

Most Folks Know All About Nuclear Age But Gadgets of Machine Age Still a Puzzle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is the machine age.

While the more sophisticated members of the human race speak knowingly of the nuclear age and the challenge of the space age, most of the people on earth still have little or no knowledge of how to deal with the gadgets of the machine age.

This is true even in highly civilized countries. There are a surprising number of people to whom anything operating mechanically remains a lifelong mystery.

They may have a superior intelligence in other ways, but they simply are mentally allergic to gadgets, gears and wheels.

Degrees of mechanical ineptitude vary. Millions of Americans are unable to learn to drive an automobile. Others can't even drive a nail with a hammer.

Such people are more to be pitied than censured. At times—if they can just keep their thumbs out of the way—they may even manage to do good in the world.

My own existence has been one long struggle with the machine age. I was born too late to have to deal with the problem of harnessing horses, and too ignorant or too proud to cope with the problems of the gasoline engine and the electric motor.

3 More U.S. Officers Killed in Viet Nam

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP)—Three more U.S. Army officers—a major and two captains—and 16 Vietnamese Rangers were killed Monday in a Communist ambush on a highway notorious for such attacks.

A U.S. enlisted man and 21 government troops were wounded in the rain of heavy-weapons fire that the Viet Cong guerrillas poured into the 16-vehicle convoy 45 miles north of Saigon.

The ambush occurred on bloody Route 13 which connects Saigon with the Cambodian border 80 miles to the north. Five other Americans have been killed in ambushes on the road in the past two years.

The deaths Monday brought the total of U.S. military men killed in action in South Viet Nam since December 1961 to 157. Another 983 Americans have been wounded in action.

The names of the latest American dead were withheld in Saigon but in Washington the Army announced the deaths in Viet Nam of Maj. Joseph W. Burkett, Stephenville, Tex.; Capt. Billy J. Hatfield, Fayetteville N.C. and Capt. Richard M. Sroka, Pueblo Colo.

A U.S. spokesman said the convoy was passing through rolling lightly jungled terrain on a routine mission when it was stopped by road mines.

Volleys of fire poured into the seven trucks four armored cars and five jeeps. Most of the casualties occurred in the first few minutes of the ambush U.S. sources said.

The firefight lasted about an hour the American spokesman said. Then the Communists slipped back into the jungle.

Ranger troops and fighters-bombers were sent to the area but made no contact with the attackers.

American sources said the major who was killed was the senior military adviser in Binh Long Province and the two captains were the intelligence officer for the province and a Ranger adviser to the Vietnamese army's 34th Battalion.

Man Is Found Shot to Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The wife and son of a Little Rock savings and loan company official were found shot to death Sunday near the Arkansas River here.

Coroner Howard Dishongh ruled the deaths of Mrs. H. Charles Johnston, 32, and her son, Warren, 8, as suicide and murder.

Johnston is vice president and secretary of First Federal Savings and Loan Co. here.

Man Is Found Shot to Death

I first realized what life held in store for me when I made a simple wooden bookrack in grammar school, and the blighted thing fell apart before I could get my handiwork home. If I planted a tree, the roots came up; the branches stayed underground.

When a fellow is this unhandy, his only salvation is to lean on others. He becomes a bystander in the machine age, not a participant. He spends most of his time feeling helpless.

But whatever a man's handicap is, he must do his best to overcome it.

In this respect I have not been without my victories. My wife doesn't let me play our three-speed phonograph or adjust the air conditioner. These instruments are too valuable for the tyro.

However, I have learned to turn on the gas stove without setting fire to our apartment—although the back burners still give me considerable trouble.

My wife also lets me tune in the television set in her presence, but she always finds it necessary to go over later herself and sharpen the focus.

At long last, I have also learned how, on some days, to work the electric toaster and the electric can opener. But I never plug them in without first offering up a mental prayer to Allah to save me from electrocution.

Arkansans Lean Toward Rep. Miller

By JOHN R. STARR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Arkansas delegation to the Republican National Convention leans toward Rep. William E. Miller of New York as a running mate for Sen. Barry Goldwater if Goldwater wins the convention's presidential nomination.

"I haven't heard any talk in this delegation about anyone else," said Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the delegation.

Mrs. W. L. Jameson of Magnolia predicted the delegation will go for Miller if he is placed in nomination for vice president. The delegates were impressed with the manner in which Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee, handled opening business of the convention.

The Arkansas delegation has not officially discussed a vice presidential candidate and probably won't until Thursday morning. Vice presidential nominations are to be made that afternoon.

But several delegates said Miller as an easterner would provide a geographic balance for a ticket headed by an Arizona senator.

Clyde Hiatt of Clarksville said Miller would be a good running mate for Goldwater.

James Grimes of Jonesboro said "It looks like Miller if Goldwater gets the presidential nomination and he appears to have it. Miller will make a balanced ticket."

John Paul Hammerschmidt of Harrison vice chairman of the delegation said he had no personal preference but added "I think Miller is real capable."

The Arkansas group still had not lined up four speakers to second Hammerschmidt's nomination of Rockefeller as a favorite son candidate for president.

"I think we'll get them by today," Hammerschmidt said.

The delegation reportedly is looking for speakers who favor Goldwater so that the favorite son nomination will carry no traces of a stop Goldwater effort.

The delegation heard rumors Monday that the nomination was being interpreted in some quarters as a delaying tactic designed to aid the drive of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton to upset the Goldwater bandwagon.

"I don't see how it could be interpreted that way," Rockefeller said. "We said when we announced that the nomination would be made that this delegation will cast nine votes for Goldwater on the first ballot.

We still intend to do that."

Nine votes apparently are all Goldwater will get. Two previously uncommitted delegates—Cy Carney Jr. of Fayetteville and Howard Vance of Sedgewick—announced Monday they will vote for Scranton. The twelfth Arkansas vote is Rockefeller's and it will go to his brother New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

The Arkansas party is invited to an Alaskan king crab feed to be given tonight by Floyd Burgess the national committeeman-elect of Alaska.

Burgess said he planned the event to honor "the next governor of Arkansas." He referred to Winthrop Rockefeller Republican candidate for governor.

Rockefeller visited a recent meeting of the Alaska Republican committee.

Goldwater Fears Attacks Hurting Republican Cause

By Jack Bell and Harry Kelly

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Driving his delegates toward a first-ballot nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater stopped along the way today to try to "put my rope" on a few strays. He also bemoaned the damage he thinks fellow Republicans have done him.

With a morning session in the GOP convention, Goldwater dropped in on the Oregon delegation and told them that Democrats "can do no more damage to me than some Republicans have already done."

"Republicans," he added "should have discussed the failing of the Johnson administration, not whether Goldwater wanted to drop a nuclear bomb."

The backers of Gov. William W. Scranton formed their faltering stop-Goldwater drive for one more try to stop the Goldwater bandwagon's swift flight toward the presidential nomination. To hammer three amendments into the carefully constructed platform bearing the Arizona conservative's endorsement.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's juggernaut rolled on in high gear today, fueled by an expanding lineup of first-ballot presidential nominating votes as it headed for a Republican convention platform test.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's forces give the withering stop-Goldwater movement a last college try today with presentation of three amendments to the program the Arizona senator has endorsed as satisfactory.

Having failed to shake the Goldwater control of the program up with a surprise maneuver. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts revealed they had called on former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter to offer their version of a nuclear arms control amendment.

This proposal was aimed at Goldwater's statement that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander should have greater supervision over small, tactical nuclear weapons.

It proposed to put the party on record as reaffirming "the historical constitutional precept of civilian control over the military." It went on to say that "the authority to use American nuclear weapons belongs only to the President of the United States."

An agreement was reached by convention officials to spend an hour on this and a proposed change in the civil rights plank approved by the Goldwater-dominated platform committee.

But Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a Scranton backer, thought so little of the prospects of success that he asked for only 10 minutes to offer a proposal to denounce "extremists."

The expected platform battle seemed likely to provide about the last gasp of the Scranton effort to head off Goldwater. The Arizona senator claimed 800 votes for a first-ballot nomination Wednesday. He needs only 655.

Negro Pastor Reports Threats

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rev. W. O. Lindsey, pastor of a Negro church which bought a building in a predominantly white area, here reported to police Sunday he had received a threatening telephone call.

Lindsey, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist Church, said an elderly woman called him before the first services in the building and said: "Do you remember what has been happening to those churches in Mississippi? The same thing is going to happen to your church."

Some Negro churches in Mississippi where civil rights activities were held have been bombed and burned this year.

Lindsey indicated the church wouldn't be used for similar activities, and said "our only interest is to have a place to worship." Lindsey said he had received several calls previously from an elderly man complaining about the church's move.

Bombings Feed Racial Discord Over South

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Bombs and torches have intermittently fed racial discord in the South during seven long years of gradual and often grudging change in segregation patterns.

The targets have been houses of worship — churches, synagogues, temples—the homes of ministers, of integration leaders, and schools and businesses.

From early 1957 when blasts went off at four Negro churches and two ministers' homes in Montgomery, Ala., until September 1963, there were no bomb or fire fatalities.

The worst of the violence came last Sept. 15 in Birmingham, Ala. A stunning explosion blew a big hole in the 16th Street Baptist Church during Sunday school, killing four Negro girls and injuring a score of other persons.

Fires and bombings had dwindled against until the burning or attempted burning of eight Negro churches during the past month in rural areas of Mississippi.

Fires destroyed two rural churches near Kingston, Miss., only Monday. It was a church burning at Philadelphia, Miss., earlier that figured in the disappearance of three civil-rights workers on their way to visit the

Bodies Found Not Missing Rights Trio

By DUDLEY LEHEW

TALLULAH, La., (AP)—The search for three missing Mississippi civil rights workers seems to have turned up two previously unsuspected slayings and a new mystery for officers.

Two bodies—the lower halves of each—were found in a sluggish offshoot of the Mississippi River about 17 miles south of here.

They were tentatively identified as the remains of two Negro youths from Meadville, a small town near Natchez.

Sheriff Ralph Hutto at Meadville said today neither youth was known to be involved in civil rights work or any other controversy.

The last time they were seen around Meadville was May, he added. They were together at the time. He said the families reported they later heard the youths were at Hammond, La., and Monroe, La.

State, federal and county officers, riding in flatbottom aluminum boats, continued their search of the "Old River" loop of the Mississippi.

The bodies were at a Jackson, Miss., laboratory. Authorities declined all comment on the results of pathology reports or other investigation.

The first body, found Sunday, was tentatively identified as that of Charles Moore, 20, a former student at Alcorn A&M College at Lorman, Miss.

Dr. J. D. Boyd, college president, said he recalled Moore as a well-behaved freshman. He said he didn't know whether Moore was among students expelled last spring for civil rights work.

The second body, found Monday, was believed to be that of Henry Dees.

The pre-dawn bombings in Montgomery came after city buses had been desegregated under a court ruling and followed a year-long bus boycott by Negroes.

Georgia was shaken by more bombs in 1961, eight within the first six months.

Then, in 1962, south Georgia became the scene of violence. Within the next two weeks fire leveled four Negro churches in the area. But these fires marked the only convictions in the arson and bombing raids.

Seven-year prison terms were meted to three men who pleaded guilty to one of the church fires. And indignant white residents joined in helping rebuild the churches.

Bomb-plagued Birmingham has recorded no fewer than 45 unsolved explosions during the past 15 years. In the Montgomery and Atlanta bombings, trials of white men accused of the crimes resulted in acquittals.

Wallace in Arkansas for Vote Pledges

By LEN TALIAFERRO
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Alabama Gov. George Wallace comes to Arkansas today to have dinner with Gov. Orval E. Faubus and to campaign for unpledged presidential electors.

Wallace will speak at 8 p.m. at Robinson Auditorium here. His address will be carried over a state-wide radio hook-up and will be telecast later by four of the state's television stations.

The address is sponsored by the Capital Citizen's Council and will be open to the public with no admission charge. Wallace will be introduced by Faubus. State constitutional officers have been invited to appear on the stage during the address.

Wallace is expected to arrive at Little Rock's Adams Field at 4 p.m. He will go immediately to the Governor's Mansion for a news conference.

Wallace will be accompanied by his wife. They will be the guests of Gov. and Mrs. Faubus for dinner.

Wallace is seeking unpledged presidential electors in an effort to take in enough votes to be able to control the presidential election.

He feels he can then demand a platform from either political party which would be acceptable to Southern states. He said the platform would have to include a strong stand for states rights.

The Alabama governor has taken his campaign throughout the nation. He frequently has been met with demonstrations by civil rights groups.

But demonstrations are not expected at his Little Rock appearance. Negro leaders said Monday night that they had none planned.

"We're just going to ignore him," said Dr. Jerry Jewel, president of the Little Rock chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Little Rock Police Chief R. E. Brians said no incidents are expected and said Wallace aides have not requested additional police protection.

Amis Guthridge, president of the Citizen's Council said no incidents have ever occurred in nine years it has been in operation.

But he added that ample security measures will be taken as a precaution. Guthridge will serve as master of ceremonies for the speech.

Lt. Ken McKee of the Arkansas State Police said plainclothes State troopers would attend the meeting.

Wallace will return to Alabama following the address.

Woman Shot in Spa Tavern

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Laverne Baum, 40, of Hot Springs was shot to death early Sunday at a rural tavern about 25 miles northwest of here.

Deputy Prosecutor Scott Campbell filed an information charging Lloyd M. McEarl, 43, of Hot Springs with first-degree murder. McEarl will have a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court Wednesday.

Officers said McEarl turned himself in at sheriff's headquarters here shortly after the shooting.

The tavern owner said Mrs. Baum grabbed at McEarl's arm and caught the barrel of a 12 gauge shotgun, which fired and hit her in the chest.

Modern Trend in Baseball to Move Team

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The modern trend in baseball is to move the team, whenever anything goes wrong. Here's how it works, in an imaginary example taken from a meeting of the major league Mudcats:

VICE PRESIDENT: We've been in this town two weeks already, boss. The boys were wondering whether to sew the name on their uniforms, or keep on using that disappearing ink.

OWNER: Wait until we hear from the City Council. They're voting today on our demands for a new stadium, a million-dollar annual subsidy, free rent, 100 home games a year, 10 free games in the standings and the right to charge $5 for a bottle of beer.

GENERAL MANAGER (rushing into meeting): Boss, they turned us down.

OWNER: No $5 beer?

GM: Oh that was all right, boss. And they agreed to furnish Cadillac for you and your family for life. But they refused to pass a law making it a criminal offense to stay away from the baseball park on Sunday.

OWNER: I'm sick of fooling around with those fuddy-duddies at City Hall. This means we move the team.

VP: Where are we going, Dad?

OWNER: I got lots of offers. I'll take them all. We'll play in a different town every night in the week. We'll keep moving. That's the secret. Then we won't ear a lot of junk about getting some pitchers or some hitters, or beating the Yankees. By the time the yokels find out that the Yankees are better than we are we'll be gone, halfway across the country.

VP: Just one question, dad. What will the Commissioner say? You know, old Whatshis-name?

OWNER: The Commissioner? What's he got to do with it? This is baseball, son. Let's get a move on.

Desire There But Feel Gone for Hogan

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The competitive desire is still there but the "feel" is gone, says Ben Hogan, making a comeback in the PGA Golf Championship at the age of 51.

"I am playing now largely on instinct," said the once-famed Texas hawk today. "It's all mechanical. If everything falls into place I might turn up with a fairly good score, but it would be lucky."

The thing I miss most is feel for a course. You've got to have it to be a winner. You get it by practice and making a detailed study of the course. I'm not able to do it any more."

Hogan, playing in his first PGA in 11 years, will be one of 165 pros teeing off Thursday over the flat and relatively short Columbus Country Club course to the 46th professional championship.

The years seem to have taken little toll from the grim, strong-jawed onetime blacksmith's son who won four U.S. Opens, two Masters, two PGAs and the British Open to become one of the game's immortals.

There are only small flecks of gray in his hair. His face is not brown. He is a trim 160 pounds.

Debates Are Desirable, Dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television debates between presidential candidates are generally desirable, a study commission says, but "in some . . . situations it may be contrary to our national interest for the president to engage in debates."

The conclusions were reached by a nine-member commission of the American Political Science Association, headed by Carl J. Friedrich, a professor of government at the Harvard Graduate School of Public Administration.

He still walks the fairways with a majesty denied other men—stiff-legged from a near fatal auto accident, white cap pulled low over his eyes, his lips a firm line of determination and gripping an inevitable cigarette.

Close associates contend Hogan is hitting the ball as well as he ever did from tee to green but suffers from nerves on the putting greens.

"That's not entirely true," Hogan corrected. "Mechanically, I can still hit the ball and I still try to win, but there's a very important thing that's missing. That's the feel of the course and the inspiration. I don't have that."

McClellan Is Some Improved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aides of Sen. John L. McClellan D-Ark. said today that Army Medical Center here had improved a nasal infection.

The senator entered the hospital last week for brief treatment. He since has gone to Little Rock for a brief stay.

"The presidential candidate who also is president," the commission said, "must consider fully the duties and responsibilities of his office before engaging in campaign debates. Only he can decide whether he will debate his opponents during the campaign. The decision is properly his."

A highlight of the 1960 campaign was the series of debates between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon. Before his assassination, Kennedy said that even as president he would be willing to debate his opponent in 1964.

President Johnson has not announced whether he would be willing to debate a campaign opponent, but some sources say he plans no such encounter.

The commission cited the Cuban invasion and the missile crisis as recent examples of situations in which presidential debates might hurt the national interest.

The study was financed by a grant from the National Broadcasting Co., but the association said the study commission "had complete independence."

Goldwater Wants Wallace to Quit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona suggested Sunday that George Wallace, Democratic governor of Alabama, abandon his efforts to garner presidential electors in various states, chiefly in the South.

"I would hope that he would withdraw," Goldwater told a caucus of Florida delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Goldwater said that Wallace "would take votes from someone" and conceded that both he and Wallace have overlapping strength in southern states.

Arkansan Involved in Fraud Suit

MEMPHIS (AP) — A real estate appraiser testified here Saturday that land sold at Taos, N.M., by an Arkansas man is worth at least $400 an acre.

The testimony of Leonard F. Near of Santa Fe came in the trial of Robert Douglas Craft, 38, of Proctor, Ark., and Bert Latimore, 41, of Geneva, Ala., on charges of using the mails in a land fraud scheme.

The government has accused Craft and Latimore of inducing persons to register for free lots in Taos, and charging for "closing costs."

Neal said the Taos development was considered more valuable than another subdivision near Deming, N.M., which he said is "still selling at $199 per half acre."

three children, three sisters, her twin Mrs. Margaret Campbell and Bernell McFadden both of Toledo, and Linda McFadden of Hope; two brothers, Chester and Jackie McFadden of Hope.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mrs. Henrietta Williams passed away at her home in the new Bethel Community, Hope route, Monday, July 13.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Smith Funeral Home of Stamps, Ark.

Boozier Fails in No Hit Try But Wins

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Big John Boozier who saw a no-hitter ruined in the ninth inning early this month lost one Monday night in the eighth as Kansas beat Oklahoma City 2-0 in Pacific Coast League baseball.

Boozier who has won eight straight games after dropping his first decision — producing performance pitched perfect ball for seven innings and then yielded two singles and a walk to face a bases-loaded situation.

But with the winning run on first Boozier halted the rally and put the first — place Travelers three games in front of the 08ers in the Eastern Division of the PCL.

Howie Goss with Oklahoma City earlier this season homered with Adolfo Phillips aboard in the fourth to provide the only Arkansas runs.

Boozier cut down the first 21 batters with only five balls hit beyond the infield. He walked only one and struck out 10 including nine of 13 during one span.

Boozier had a no-hitter going into the ninth inning against the Dallas Rangers on July 5 but an infield hit stopped that.

Boozier's Jim Beauchamp was the 88er who got the first of the two Oklahoma City hits Monday night.

Gambling Foes Want Graham

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham will be invited to Arkansas for a statewide campaign against a proposed constitutional amendment to legalize gambling in Garland County, a church group said Monday.

The executive committee of the Churches United Against Gambling voted to join with the Keep Arkansas Christian organization in the invitation to Graham.

Both organizations were recently organized, primarily to fight the proposed amendment which will be voted on in the November general election.

"I've got a cold," the man said, and he went on to ask for a "wonder drug." The pharmacist sold him some aspirin and advised him to see his physician. As it happened the aspirin fixed him up fine, but the point is this: Pharmacists are not physicians. We work with doctors, providing the drugs and medicines they prescribe. We have a professional knowledge of the powerful new "wonder drugs," so we know how important it is to use them correctly. Please do not feel offended when your pharmacist refuses to sell you a certain drug. It is for your protection and in the best interest of your good health. CHATTER

By "Bill"

Retailing is a funny business. It is paced so far ahead that you almost meet yourself going from one market to another.

School is barely out, in fact, was still going on in some places, when buyers were off to market looking at back-to-back things.

Now, we are not promoting our back-to-school things as yet, but we will soon. However, we are showing brand new Briney Marlin knits. Several two- and three-piece styles, the same as we had in Spring except they are in new dark colors.

We find people are going to the Fair, to Canada, to Wisconsin and other points north. They are going on vacations and want something to wear that will not wrinkle and can be worn later, too. Naturally, it is a knit, the most versatile garment ever to be designed!

If you like a soft shade of nutmeg brown (which is so very hard to find) see the two-piece Crestmoor Suits with the loose fitting jacket and slim skirt, $59.95. The good old stand-by, three-piece black, Chanel jacket, overblouse and slim skirt, gives you a town suit and a cocktail dress all in one... $69.95.

And for right now, see the new Karot of California nylon knits, dark shades to be worn with your light accessories, $22.95.

We cannot begin to describe them all, but each and every line is exclusive with us and for you... see them at Rayley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

Monday, July 13 at 7 o'clock for their monthly business and social.

A delicious potluck supper was served buffet style in the back yard summer house, to fifteen class members and two guest arrangements of lovely roses centered the tables.

Mrs. Henry Haynes, teacher, gave the invocation. The president, Mrs. Leo Hartsfield, conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Hubert Thrash conducted a most interesting quiz on Bible mysteries and sight reading. Mrs. Bill Flanders, a guest, won the game prize. Another guest, Mrs. Esther Flanders, West Palm Beach, Florida, voiced the closing prayer.

Timm-Spillers Engagement Is Announced

Miss Carolyn Timm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burton Timm of Little Rock, and David Sidney Spillers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Ernest Spillers of Kenai, Alaska, formerly of Hope and Texarkana, are engaged to be married August 16 in Bible Church of Little Rock.

The bride-elect was graduated from Central High School, Little Rock, and received a B.S. degree in home economics from Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia. She was a member of Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic society, and Sigma Tau Delta. She is employed in the nursing home division of the state welfare department.

Mr. Spillers is a candidate to receive a B.S.E. degree in English from OBC in August. He was graduated from Hope High School and attended the University of Alaska. He will be on the faculty of Fuller High School this fall.

Coming and Going

Mrs. John Crosby will leave Saturday for San Francisco to visit her brother, Tracy Simmons, and family for a week.

Miss Margie Waddle returned home Sunday following a two weeks visit with the Bob Linaker family in Baton Rouge. Miss Bobbie Linaker accompanied her home and will remain here for two weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson have returned to their home in Richardson, Texas, after a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Benson. Susan and Chuck remained in Hope with their grandparents for a three week visit.

Mrs. Jim Ash, Longview, Tex., visited Mrs. Dale Wilson this weekend when she came to the Class of 1924 reunion.

Becky and Alan Crow of Overland Park, Kan., are visiting their grandparents, the F. C.

West Memphis Votes for Bonds

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Voters here approved two bond issues totaling $750,000 Friday to build a plant here for a castings company from Illinois.

A $450,000 Amendment 49 bond issue was approved 848-26. A $300,000 Act 9 issue was passed 848-25.

The bonds would buy a site and finance construction of a building for East St. Louis Castings Co., East St. Louis, Ill. The firm makes molds for automobile and agricultural industries, electrical appliances, pipe fittings, pumps, turbines, earth moving equipment and hardware.

Group Opposes Water Valley Dam

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Upper Eleven Point River Association said Saturday it would picket U.S. Engineers headquarters here this week, starting today.

The association opposes plans to build the Water Valley Dam on the river. It claims that the structure is not necessary to help the economy of the area.

John Pickett, president of the association, said the picketing would be "in further protest against Water Valley Dam." The proposed dam has a long history of controversy.

Miss Claud Ann Sutton

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Howard Sutton announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Claud Ann to William Lee Freeman, son of Mrs. Verna Freeman all of Hope.

Miss Sutton graduated from Hope High School in 1961 and will receive her degree in Elementary Education in August from Ouachita Baptist College.

Her fiancé, also a graduate from Hope High School in 1959, graduated from Ouachita Baptist College last May with a Science major.

The wedding will be an event of August 18, at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Hope.

"DEAR ABBY"

EXCEPTIONAL OR GULLIBLE

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I know how you feel about women who fall in love with married men but I am the exception. I have loved a professional man for six years. I work for him. He is married in name only, if you know what I mean. We have never been seen together in public as I wouldn't want to hurt his good name. He has children (three of them) and in nine years, his youngest will be 21. At that time he plans to divorce his wife, leave her comfortably provided for, and marry me. I am not a homemaker, and have no desire to take a man away from his wife and family. He tells me every time we are together how much he loves and respects me for my patience and fairness. Perhaps this will give other women who share my situation an idea. Sign me—PATIENT

Dear Patient: Would you like a medal for "patiently" waiting until his children are grown, and his wife is entirely alone before taking him away? I am sure he's delighted with your "patience and fairness." It also means he won't have any static out of you for the next nine years. Get wise!

Dear Abby: When you write someone a letter, do you think that person has the right to send it to someone else? I have a mother-in-law who has sent ME letters she has received from others, and I know that she has sent MY letters to her friends and relatives. Not that I would ever write anything about anyone that might cause trouble, but it is difficult for me to

Brief Report on GOP Platform

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Here in brief is what the proposed 1964 Republican platform pledges on these significant issues:

Civil Rights — "Full implementation and faithful execution of the Civil Rights Law of 1964."

Fiscal Affairs — "We also pledge prudent and responsible management of the government's fiscal affairs to protect the individual against the evils of spendthrift government."

Viet Nam — "We will move decisively to assure victory in South Viet Nam."

Cuba — "We will vigorously press our OAS (Organization of American States) partners to join the United States in restoring a free and independent government in Cuba."

Health Care — "Full coverage of all medical and hospital costs of needy elderly people financed by general revenues through broader implementation of federal-state plans."

out getting a divorce, he married me—telling me only that he had been "married and divorced." When our baby was two-years old, he got a summons for non-support from his second wife. I learned then that there had been two marriages and no divorces. He obtained a legal divorce from his second wife (but not from his first). Am I living in sin because of this? I am pregnant again and if my husband doesn't get this thing cleared up, I am going to end up in the nut house. Can you help me?

CONFUSED
Dear Confused: You need a lawyer to advise you of your rights. If you can't afford one, go to your Legal Aid Society. Your husband is a bigamist and your lawyer had better see him before the DA does.

Cattlemen Meet
The Hempstead County Cattlemen's association will meet in the Diamond Cafe on Thursday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m.

John Harkey, with the American Cynamid Company, will be a guest speaker. Mr. Harkey will discuss causes and control of anaplasmosis in cattle. Other diseases such as leptospirosis will be discussed briefly.

Soybeans
Soybeans may be sprayed with 4-(2,4-DB) for control of heavy infestations of actively growing cocklebur. The herbicide is commercially available as Butoxone SB and Butyrac 175. Apply two tenths of a pound per acre in 10 to 20 gallons of water 7 to 14 days prior to early soybean bloom on up to mid-bloom. The cocklebur should be forming a canopy over the soybeans for best control and minimum damage to the crop. Correct dosage and timing is very necessary for this crop.

Soil Samples
Now is a good time to get that soil sample sent in for testing. This is a slack period for the laboratory and results can be obtained in minimum of time. Most ACP practices such as seeding pastures and cover crop require a soil test. In most cases the test will save you money or your fertilizer bill.

New Leaflets
We have just received two new leaflets for distribution. One is entitled, "Field Crops Seeding Guide" which lists all the recommended varieties of plants rates and dates of seeding. The other leaflet, "Lawns and Their Care," contains information on establishing maintenance, fertilization and weed control in lawns. These leaflets are free for the asking.

Conway to Act on Vandalism

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Conway Chamber of Commerce condemned Saturday recent acts of lawlessness in the area and promised its personal service and financial aid if they are needed to curb the outbreak.

They would pay to hire extra policemen, if necessary, a chamber statement said. Police Chief C. O. Hensley said vandalism, obscene telephone calls and threats had increased since June 15 when a steelworkers union struck the Virco Manufacturing Co. here. Mayor Walter Dunaway has ordered Conway's 11 policemen to work 12-hour shifts, instead of the usual eight.

Obey Rights Law, Group Urges

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock Chamber of Commerce's board of directors said Saturday that the Civil Rights Act should be obeyed as law until it is struck down by the courts.

Any person who ignores the act "will only bring difficulties and discredit on the communities in which they live," the statement said.

It came a day after the Executive Committee of the Arkansas Bar Association condemned persons who urged that the civil rights law be ignored.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said last Wednesday that businessmen should continue their usual policies, despite the Civil Rights Act.

Basin Group Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., and Gen. Howard W. Penney, deputy director of the Directorate of Civil Works of the Corps of Engineers, will speak Friday at the Arkansas Basin Association meeting here. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., will moderate a congressional forum in the afternoon.

Eagle Sweeps to 5th Straight Win

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) - American Eagle a sleek 12-meter yacht built this year for America's Cup competition is threatening to make a one-boat show of the trials to determine the U.S. defender against Britain in September.

Eagle swept to her fifth straight - and easiest - victory of the current series of trials Monday sailing unopposed for the last 17 miles of a 20-mile triangular course after rival Columbia withdrew from the race.

The triumph was the 12th ever-all for the unbeaten Eagle in the trials which will continue throughout the summer. Constellation the other 1964-built yacht in the five-boat competition ran her current record to 4-1 defeating winless Easterner by 3 minutes 45 seconds in Monday's other race. The fifth contender Nefertiti had the day off.

American Leads French Tourney

CHANTILLY, France (AP) - Phil Rodgers isn't enough of a veteran pro golfer to get into the United States PGA Championship but he looks good enough to take the French Open Tournament this week.

Going into the second round today, Rodgers, from La Jolla, Calif., leads the field with a course record 66-one stroke ahead of Britain's Tony Grubb. Although a veteran of the U.S. pro circuit, Rodgers, 26, has served only three years of the required five-year apprenticeship to be eligible for the PGA title.

A Short Short Story © 1964 by NEA, Inc. THE LUNCHEON

By Ruth Engelken

"If there were only some way to get out of this annual Christmas luncheon!" Maxine Rogers, dust rag in hand, stood surveying the unmet table, the conglomeration of packages, seals, and ribbon on the buffet, and the sweeper in the middle of the rug. Entertaining the club the week before Christmas was becoming more hectic each year. What was worse, everyone now considered it a tradition to go to Maxine's in December. "You'll just have to help Ma-ma, Toby," she said to her five-year-old. Since Paul was at the office and the older boys were at school, there was only Toby's tiny hand to depend upon. "Empty the wastebaskets, then carry the packages upstairs," she said.

Toby made a face. "Do I hafta?" His mouth under his freckled nose pinched into a pout. "Yes, you have to. And be quick about it. In less than two hours they'll be here." Noticing the disgust etched on his small face, Maxine added, "If you hurry, I'll let you help with the cooking. You always like that. And there'll be a pudding bowl to lick."

"Can I ice the rolls?" "Yes," said his mother. "If you're a good boy." At 12:30, the doorman rang Maxine, trailed by Toby, rushed to the front hall. She opened the door on Beth Murphy, Marie Tanner, and Inez Willett. "Say 'hello to the ladies, Toby,'" Maxine instructed. "This is Aunt Beth, Aunt Marie, and Aunt Inez."

They were not, of course, blood relations, but Maxine used the family appellation to trigger the boy's affection. When the bell rang, the scene was repeated. This time Toby was presented to Aunt Louise, Aunt Doris, Aunt Esther, and Aunt Winnie.

By one o'clock all the guests were seated at the table enjoying Maxine's chicken timbales and homemade cloverleaves. Toby was managing to make himself a nuisance by banging on the piano Maxine had to tell him to stop.

She had to reprimand him again for walking across the top of the sofa and another time for dumping his Tinker Toy set in the middle of the floor.

When he reached for the platter of left-over rolls and carried it to the kitchen, Maxine was relieved. "That's a good boy. Help Mama take the things off." She could hear him banging drawers and rattling spoons in the kitchen and guessed he was indulging in his favorite pastime, cooking. Ten minutes later, her surmise was substantiated when he proudly carried in the remaining rolls, leed now with pink frosting.

"They're only for the guests," he announced, handing the platter to Inez, who grinned, helped herself, and passed it down the line. Toby beamed at the praise of his guests.

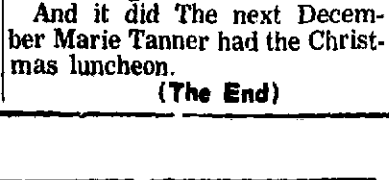

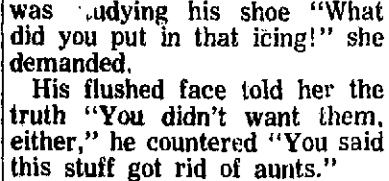

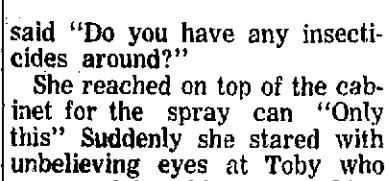

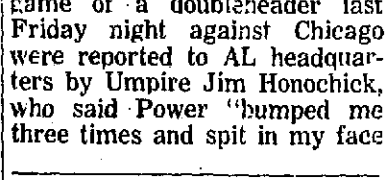

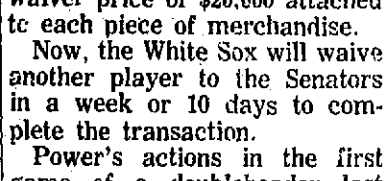

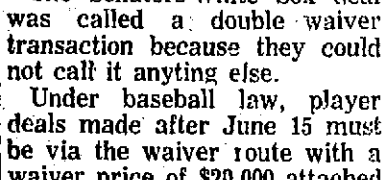

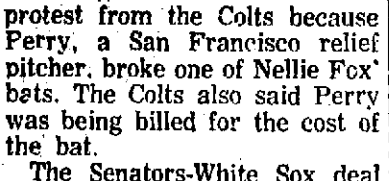

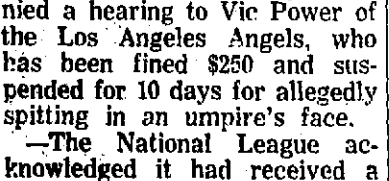

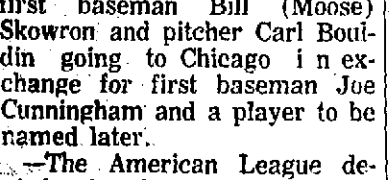

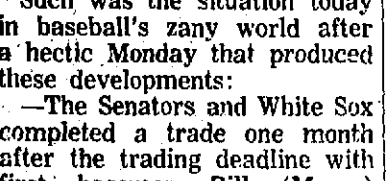

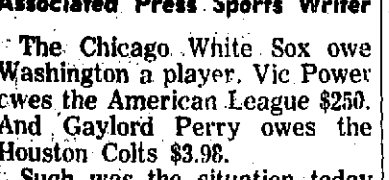

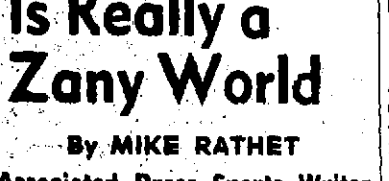

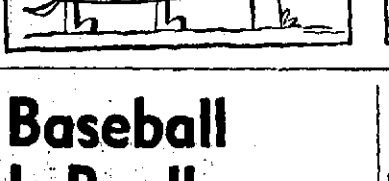

By three o'clock the guests were gone. By six o'clock all of them were in the hospital getting their stomachs pumped out.

When the inspector arrived to take food samples, Maxine was in a nervous frenzy. "But I can't imagine what it was," she wailed, wringing her hands. "Chlordane," the inspector after Sunday's game at Houston in which San Francisco reliever Billy O'Dell was thrown out for arguing even before he had made one pitch and Perry sat down on the mound to change his shoes after getting a hurry-up call to replace O'Dell.

Fox, who previously had singled in the tying run for the Colts, drove in the winning run with a single in the ninth inning. Perry, in a rage, stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and smashed it against the side of the Giants' dugout.

Homers Prove Difference in the American

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Home runs were flying over American League fences at a record clip but Al Lopez wasn't concerned—until one of them got lost on Charley Finley's pennant porch.

Then the White Sox pilot blew his top.

There were 25 homers hit in the AL Monday, four more than the previous mark for one league in a five-game schedule and one more than Lopez' count.

He's convinced that Wayne Causey's homer in the second game of a doubleheader, a three-run shot that led to an 8-7 Kansas City victory over the White Sox, was nothing more than a flimsy of Finley's runaway green-and-gold drawing board.

Chicago had taken the first game 8-6 and was leading 6-3 in the seventh inning of the nightcap when Causey's drive fell where a pole separates the shortened portion of Municipal Stadium from the high wall in center field.

The umpires ruled the ball had cleared the porch's low fence. Lopez contended it had hit the wall in center and was playable. Lopez lost the debate and was tossed out of the game when he resumed it an inning later.

Ron Hansen of the White Sox and the Athletics' Jim Genth then matched eighth-inning homers before Causey's bases-loaded single in the ninth broke up the eight-homer slugfest.

The split cost Chicago a chance to gain 1½ games on league-leading Baltimore, which dropped a 10-inning 4-3 decision to Detroit. The New York Yankees, however, gained a game on the Orioles with a 10-4 rout of Cleveland. Boston blanked Washington 7-0 in the other game scheduled.

San Francisco held its National League lead with a 5-3 victory over Houston while second place Philadelphia edged Milwaukee 3-2. St. Louis swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 5-4 in 12 innings and 12-5. Chicago clubbed Los Angeles 10-4 and the Cincinnati-New York game was rained out.

Bears Work to Defend Nat'l Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Bears are back at work, getting ready to defend their National Football League championship. First item of business for George Halas and his staff will be sharpening up the offense.

Rookies were in the majority Monday when the Bears' early camp opened at St. Joseph's College at Rensselaer, Ind., where the club has trained for 21 years.

Never one to spare the horses, Halas planned to get right down to heavy work immediately just as he did last year. The Bears play the College All-Stars Aug. 7 at Soldier Field in Chicago.

As early as the Bears were, they were not the first to take the field. The Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Dallas Cowboys, Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles all beat them to the punch with their rookie camps.

By next Monday all 14 NFL teams will have their camps open and some will have the veterans on hand too.

The American Football League also is getting ready to swing into action with the New York Jets' rookie and the Denver Broncos due to open up Wednesday. The Jets will train at Peekskill, N.Y., and the Broncos at Fort Collins, Colo.

The first pre-season game is the Bear-All Stars at Chicago Friday, Aug. 7. The rest of the NFL teams, except Pittsburgh and the AFL will get busy the same weekend. Pittsburgh's first game is Aug. 14. The regular season opens in both leagues the weekend of Sept. 12-13.

bill produced 11 home runs. First game winner Gary Peters, 10-4, poked a three-run homer to pace the White Sox' 16-hit attack. George Alusik and Dick Green connected for the A's.

Peter Ward, Don Buford, Gene Stephens and Hansen homered for the Sox; Manny Jimenez, Ed Charles, Causey and Gentle for the A's in the nightcap. Green's single, a double by Ken Harrelson and an intentional pass set the stage for Causey's game-winning hit that snapped KC's six-game losing streak.

Jerry Lumpe's bases-loaded single in the 10th gave the Tigers their second straight one-run victory over Baltimore, which had won 21 of 23 one-run verdicts before Sunday.

Brooks Robinson's two-run ninth-inning homer sent the game into overtime after Don Demeter's solo shot in the second and two unearned runs in the sixth had given the Tigers a 3-1 bulge. Sam Bowens' homers accounted for the Orioles' first run.

The Yankees climbed to within 1½ games of Baltimore with their seventh straight victory over the Indians. Tom Tresh hit a pair of two-run homers—one from each side of the plate—and Mickey Mantle and Cleve Boyer also homered, offsetting three Cleveland circuits.

Boston's Bill Monbouquette turned in the top pitching performance—a four-hit shutout—and the Red Sox twice struck for back-to-back homers. Dick Stuart and Lee Thomas connected in the five-run fourth inning and Felix Mantilla and Tony Conigliaro duplicate d in the eighth.

Minnesota and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Giants Edge Colts After Bat Incident

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nellie Fox doesn't have much of an opinion on topless bathing suits, but you can tell he's not altogether crazy about two-piece bats.

Fox, the veteran Houston second baseman who drove in the winning run against National League-leading San Francisco Sunday night, went hitless as the Colts lost to the Giants 5-3 Monday night—just hours after the Great Bat-Breaking Incident of 1964 came to light.

Fox drove in the winning run for the Colts Sunday with a single in the ninth lining off Gaylord Perry, who stormed off the mound, picked up Fox' bat and smashed it against the Giants' dugout. Fox' bat came apart—so he had to use a new one Monday night.

"These new bats are soft," said Fox, "and it takes while to get them into shape. Perry's action was dar nubst."

"What Perry did," said Houston Manager Harry Craft, "was like going into your home and breaking your best set of dishes."

While Fox' new bat held no hits, Lou Brock's old one collected seven as the St. Louis Cardinals swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 5-4 in 12 innings and 12-5.

Brock, acquired by St. Louis in a trade with the Chicago Cubs, slammed a homer, double and single in the first game and came back with a homer, triple and two singles in the nightcap. He has hit at a .356 clip since joining St. Louis lifting his average to .285.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia remained one game back of the Giants by edging Milwaukee and Warren Spahn 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-4.

Detroit edged American League-leading Baltimore 4-3 in 10 innings, the New York Yankees thumped Cleveland 10-4, Boston shut out Washington 7-0 and the Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader slugfest with Kansas City, winning the opener 8-6 before the A's took the nightcap 8-7.

Monday night's Houston-San Francisco game was not without incident as Craft was ejected for the second night in a row.

The latest hassle revolved around Umpire Tony Venzon's ruling that Colt shortstop Eddie Kasko had not touched second base on an attempted force cut in the ninth inning. That left two Giants on base and led to the decisive runs. Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly brought in the tie-breaker before Jim

Herd Performance Testing

Arthur Wimmell, pictured above, of McCaskill is the first beef cattle producer to do cow herd performance testing in Hempstead County. On Friday of last week Mr. Wimmell was assisted in weighing, grading and collecting other information on his calves by Dr. Carl Leuker, Extension Animal Husbandman, County Agent Calvin Caldwell, and Associate County Agent Dwight Davis.

Performance testing is a simple method for obtaining systematic records for selecting and breeding highly productive beef cattle. The records can be used to put beef production on a business basis with a minimum of effort.

"There are a few other cattlemen in Hempstead County ready to do performance testing, too," said Calvin Caldwell, County Agent. The program is just as effective for producing commercial cattle as for registered cattle, Mr. Caldwell said. If you are interested in the program and would like more information contact the County Extension Service office.

Hart singled in an insurance run.

The victory went to O'Dell, who this time didn't get into an argument, got an opportunity to pitch and allowed only one hit in four innings of relief work.

At Pittsburgh, the Cardinals lashed 15 hits in the first game before finally winning on Julian Javier's run-scoring single in the 12th inning. Twenty hits and six Pittsburgh errors made the nightcap easier. Bill White hit a homer in each game for the Cardinals.

The Phillies, who had lost four straight to left-handers, snapped the string by beating Spahn as Richie Allen slammed a double and triple and scored two runs. Spahn's loss left him with a 6-9 record but he went the distance for the first time in 12 games.

The Cubs beat the Dodgers and Don Drysdale, 11-8 with a five-run uprising after two were out in the sixth inning. Andre Rodgers' three-run homer was the big blow. Larry Jackson got the victory, his 12th against six losses.

Midwest, Sheriffs and Lions Win

By Jimmy Singleton

Midwest Dairy clipped CBC 13 to 8 last night in the opening game in Little League play at Fair park. Calhoun got 3 for 3 for the losers and Turner was the losing hurler.

Rogers was credited with the Midwest victory. Brown led the hitters for the milk boys, getting 3 for 3.

The Lions Club team edged Coleman Dairy 12 to 11 in a high scoring affair. Massanelli took the victory while Hamilton was the losing hurler. Massanelli added his cause with 2 for 2 at the plate. Whitten got 3 for 4 including his second home run of the year for the losers.

Smith hurled the Sheriffs to a 12-8 victory over Hope Auto. Still was the loser. Cross and Pierce each got 2 for 3 at the plate for the Sheriffs. Laughard led the losers with 2 for 2 hits.

In the first game Hope Auto takes on Midwest and the final game pairs Midwest against the Lions.
